WAR HOSPITAL DEPLORABLE

Senators Startled by Expose of Conditions At Johnson City, Tenn.

850 PATIENTS THERE

Investigator Tells of Buying Drugs and Whiskey On Reservation—Prey of Outsiders.

Washington, Aug. 5.—With the Sweet bill providing relief for disabled ex-service men lying on the Vice President's table awaiting his signature, but its enactment delayed by the absence of any official empowered to sign it, the Senate Committee on Soldier Relief today heard startling disclosures of conditions in the Old Soldiers' Home at Johnson City, Tenn.

Conditions at this institution, where 850 former service men are receiving treatment are so deplorable that unless Congress acts immediately casualties there will be greater in proportion than in the world war, according to Director Forbes, of the War Risk Insurance Bureau. Mr. Forbes said the men were surrounded by vice, corruption and immorality.

The war risk head brought as a witness M. P. McInereny, the agent who made the investigation and who lived for a week as a "patient" at the home. The latter told the committee of having bought morphine, moonshine whisky and extract of ginger containing 95 per cent alcohol on the home reservation; declared that intoxication was common among the former service men, and asserted, that immoral women ever run the grounds on which the institution is located.

The witness said he had encountered many patients who carried guns and defied the guards to take the firearms away. There was absolutely no discipline, he added and the patients "ran the place to the extent of forcing the executive officers to withdraw the guards from the dining room." Loaded dice and marked cards, he declared, were supplied by "parasites" from the outside and the patients "drained" of of the money given them by the government.

As Mr. McInereny gave detail after detail of his week's experience which ended Monday last, telling of the life of those "who desired to get well," Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, demanded that the situation be laid before Attorney General Daugherty for action. The Senator declared that all of those in authority at the home and whom he said had appeared to have permitted the condition to continue should be indicted for malfeasance in office.

No action was taken by the committee, however, but Mr. Walsh declared that the sending of former service men to "such hell houses has got to stop."

Mr. Forbes again explained that his bureau was unable to correct the evils because of lack of jurisdiction over the soldiers' home, which is administered by the Federal board controlling all such institutions. He declared he felt it his duty to make public his findings, however, in order that public sentiment might wipe out the "curse" which he said his investigation has showed to exist.

The institution, the director said, was inadequately officered, did not have sufficient doctors and nurses and needed additional guards who could isolate from it the hordes which, he said, daily marched on to the prey that awaited them among the patients, many of whom, he added, were "mentally not responsible for their acts," He pleaded for welfare societies to lend their aid.

Chairman Sutherland, of the committee, put into the record a letter and affidavits from seven patients at the Rest Haven Sanatorium Waukesha, Wis., asking for an investigation of that institution. The former service men declared they had been subjected to inhuman treatment and that facilities for their care and attention were inaedquate.

In connection with the delay on the Smoot bill hope was expressed either that Vice President Coolidge would return from his vacation or that a letter would be received tomorrow from Senator Cummins, at Atlantic City, designator Cummins, president pro tem, at Atlantic City, designating a Senator to sign bills until he recovers from his illness.

"Pussyfoot" To Tackle India

London, Aug. 5.—"Pussyfoot" Johnson, the American temperance worker, will sail for India tomorrow at the invitation of the Anglo-Indian Temperance Association, which plans to launch a dry campaign in the Eastern Empire.

Mr. Johnson did not appear to be daunted by the tales of India's wetness or by the reputed pride which the colonists have in their thirst. When told that doctors agree that alcohol is the best protection in the world against malaria, he said: "We have no objection to the use of alcohol for medicinal purposes."

After a three months' campaign he intends to return to England, which he hopes will be dry by that time.

WEST LEAD CUT BY GUNN

Indications Are That His Plurality Is Under 10,000.

BIG VOTE IN FIRST

Trinkle's Victory In Race for Governorship Emphasized As Votes Are Canvassed—No Date for Meeting.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 5.—Still maintaining a lead over State Senator Julien Gunn, of Henrico, of about 5,000 votes, it appears that State Senator Junius E. West, of Suffolk, on the face of incomplete returns, won the nomination for Lieutenant Governor in the Democratic primary Tuesday, but not by as large plurality as the earlier returns indicated.

Senator West, in a statement early this morning over long distance telephone, declared that while returns he had received are yet incomplete especially from the Ninth District, he is confident that he has defeated the Henrico man by from 8,000 to 10,000 plurality. Efforts to reach Senator Gunn and ascertain his views as to the race was futile. It was said at his home that he was out of the city and could not be reached by telephone.

Incomplete returns, compiled by the Times-Dispatch, show that Senator West to be leading with 37,689 votes to 32,603 for Senator Gunn Delegate Kenneth N. Gilpin is running third with 19,061. Senator West said last night that he had carried Alexandria and Arlington county by 500 plurality over Senator Gunn. This vote is not included in the totals given above. He has also carried Washington county, but has not received any figures.

The Second District rallied to the banner of the Senator from Suffolk with a tremendous vote, giving him on the face of aproximately complete returns, 12,976 to 2,358 for Senator Gunn. This more than over comes the lead Senator Gunn has in the Third, which gave his 12,714 to 3,126 for Senator Gunn.

Indications are that Senator West, has carried the First District by from 1,000 to 2,000 plurality, and the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth, by a substantial vote. In the Seventh, Senator Gunn apparently has won. Delegate Gilpin, on the face of very incomplete returns, is leading in the Eighth. The vote in the Ninth is largely lacking, but it is reported that Senator West is excepitionally strong in that district. In the Tenth, according to incomplete returns, Senator Gunn stands a chance of coming out the victor.

Late returns in no way affect the race for the governorship. The majority of Senator Trinkle in the State, over Harry St. George Tucker, is estimated to be in the neighborhood of 20,000. Richmond gave a majority to Senator Trinkle of 271.

Jacob N. Brenaman, secretary of the State Democratic Committee, stated yesterday that no date had been set for the meeting of the committee, but intimated that a conference would probably be called in September, at wihch time the result of the primary election would be declared and certified. Matters affecting the November election will be taken to conduct a vigorous campaign against the Republican candidates.

Congressman Rorer James, chairman of the State Democratic Committee, is expected to issue the call for a meeting of that body.

AD MAN'S CHAT

Friday is a day when the Gazette is anxiously awaited by the majority of thrifty housewives in the city, because it usually contains a number of attractive advertisements of business houses where bargains are to be found on Saturday.

True to tradition, the merchants of Alexandria are offering countless bargains for tomorrow, department and clothing stores as well as many of the leading markets of the city.

An unusual advertisement for this season of the year appears in connection with the big ad of Bendheim's on page 3 of today's Gazette. In what is generally the hottest month of the year, this store is advertising a special reduction sale on winter underwear. But as Mr. Diener says in his advertisement, "It is never too hot to save money."

Swan Brothers are today featuring a clean up sale of all ready-to-wear and are advertising a number of very special bargains in voile and organdy dresses and separate dress skirts. It will pay you to read over these items carefully today.

Downham and Ridgely are the authors of two advertisments that appear in different parts of the paper today, advertising very special prices on suits and men's furnishings.

Several of the markets of the city are featuring special prices on good things to eat and all are urged to read these advertisements carefully and benefit thereby

To Try For Big League

Dreifus Wins Laurels With Pennsylvania Team

Carl "Ikey" Dreifus, teh star all around athlete of Alexandria, who has been touring Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, with the Spring Grove Pennsylvania Baseball Club term, has pitched and won eight straight games, which, indeed, is a feat any young pitcher should be proud of when strong teams, whom eh has defeated are taken into consideration.

"Ikey" is a natural born speed lad and his lightning like movements on both the baseball field and football gridiron are well known to every person who have seen him in action in those popular athletic contests. He has been invited by President Clark C. Griffith to visit the Washington baseball grounds and work out with the "big league" ball players.

Jimmy Alexander, "Speedking" Roland Jones, Jimmy Quayle, and Francis Summers, the pride of the town baseball players, have also been invited to learn baseball from teachers who are competent to instruct them, but they have not accepted the offer. What's the matter boys? Are you shy? Do not be like the bashfulmaiden who partly covers her face with an artistically painted fan and giggles and giggles and giggles, but be real men and consider the offer in a business like way for its means much to every player mentioned—it is a chance that thousands of young ball players would like to get, but they have no friends to bring them before the thrones of the Aemrican League and National League baseball managers.

There are several classy baseball players now performing in Alexandria who are capable of donning major league uniforms, and making good, too, viz. Devers, Giles, Ludlow, Frye, Savage and McMahon.

The Sunday School Baseball League are developing many excellent players, but many of the youngsters are handicapped by not having suitable uniforms which interferes with their free action in playing. If the lady friends of the lads desire them to have a neat appearance on the field, it would not be a hard task to give a benefit supper to aid the young lads to purchase uniforms. Read "Sports" in the "Alexandria Gazette," ladies, it is instructive reading.

Grand Dragon Says Ku Klux Is Fraud.

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 5.—That the new Ku Klux movement is "an organiaztion engaged exclusively in collecting initiation fees without any legal standing, and is a failure and a fraud," is the opinion expressed here today in an interview with the Greensboro Daily News, by Major Bruce Craven, of Trinity, N. C., lawyer, financier and writer, and until noon Friday, August 5, when his resignation takes effect, the Grand Dragon of North Carolina, supreme head of the state organization.

Ulster Reply To Sinn Fein Causes Worry.

Dublin, Aug. 4.—The Irish republican parliament has been summoned to meet Tuesday, August 16, the Irish Bulletin official republican organ, announced tonight. Notices have been sent to all the members of the parliament.

It is reported the reply of Ulster to overtures of the Sinn Fein has been received, and is not favorable.

The call for the meeting of the parliament, with all members present, involves the release form prison of 25 members of this body, and it has been declared the government is willing to facilitate their attendance.

The belief had been expressed among the Irish leaders that there was no use in summoning the parliament until the attitude of Ulster had been finally defined.

The inference in political circles here, therefore, is that the answer of Ulster has been received. This answer is reporter to be unfavorable, the Belfast leaders declining the inv. Fein overtures, although these overtures had the sympathy of the British government, it is said.

Increase Floor Space.

To increase the floor space according to the demand of an ever increasing volume of trade, the Piggly Wiggly store has cut its big lobby in half and fenced one side in for a display space for fruits and green vegetables.

This change in the interior of the store gives the firm a good display window for their fruits and vegetables and adds to the general attractiveness of the store in a big way.

Sheriff Warned To Quit Office Within 24 Hours.

Fitzgerald, Ga., Aug. 5.—Sheriff E. F. Dorminey today received an anonymous letter warning him to resign his office within twenty-four hours "and be safe."

The note concludes: "Whatever happens will occur in a crowd; we never expect to find you in the woods." The sheriff was warned not to attend church Sunday, among other things, it is stated.

Girl Leaps Into Niagara.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 4.—During an electrical illumination of Niagara Falls tonight an unidentified girl, apparently about 18 years old committed suicide by jumping into the Niagara river about 40 feet from the brink of the American falls.

Many were witnessing the illumination, and several women fainted as the young woman was swept into the gorge.

Smoking In Zion Costs Offender $65 In Cash.

"This thing must stop," a judge remarked when he fined Stockstill, "Stop!" Stockstill replied, "I'm as stopped as my name would indicate."

K. of C. To Spend $2,500,000 for Disabled Veterans.

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—Announcement that the Knights of Columbus would expend approximately $2,500,000 on hospitalization work for disabled former service men has been made at the final session of the annual International Knights of Columbus Convention here today by William J. McGinley, supreme secretary.

Knights of Columbus secretaries experienced in war work will be attached to the larger hospitals, where disabled men will be provided with comforts and recreation.

The Knights also will continue their 500 college and university courses during the forthcoming year as well as the chain of 132 Knights of Columbus night vocational schools for veterans and civilians.

In view of present negotiations for the settlement of the Irish question the convention resolved that it would not adopt any new policy to supplement its resolution of the 1920 Supreme Convention in New York indorsing Irish self government. Last year's resolution accepted Irish claims for self determination and self government and urged the United States to recognize the form of government set up by these claimants.

The convention indorsed the Boy Scout movement in the United States wherever it has been approved by the head of a Catholic diocese.

Match Made In Mid-Air. "Cloud Did It," Aviator Says.

New York, Aug4 5.—Such is the magic of the upper air on a sunny morning that Miss Mildred Armstrong who went for an airplane ride with George Hauser, at Mineola today came down blushing and smiling and wearing a diamond ring on the proper finger. They had just become engaged.

"The clouds did it," said Richard Depew, the pilot, who played Cupid. "By the time we had gone up 2500 feet it was plain that Miss Armstrong looked on Hauser with increasing favor. At 3,000 feet he proposed and she hesitated. So I nosed the bus up again and at 3500 feet, when we were sailing among the fleeciest clouds, Hauser asked her again and she said 'Yes.'"

Miss Armstrong is a teacher in the Mineola High School. Hauser is in the production department of the Curtiss Company at Garden City.

KIWANIANS WILL HELP

To Raise $1,000 for Instructor for Playgrounds Soon.

ACTION UNANIMOUS

Talks By Washingtonians On District Council Next Month—C. F. Holden Makes Address.

The Kiwanis Club is going to raise the sum of $1,000 to pay the cost of an instructor for the summer months at the children's playgrounds. This was unanimously decided on yesterday afternoon at the weekly dinner of that organization. News that this would be done was received with considerable gratification by the officials in charge of the playgrounds.

Harry Kimball and Dr. George Baker, of Washington, addressed the gathering on the Capital District Council which will meet in Norfolk next month. Charles F. Holden addressed the club on legislation relative to fire insurance that would be presented to the state legislature at the coming session.

Governor Wires To Nominee

Wytheville, Aug. 5.—"As a loyal democrat, I shall be glad to stump the state for you in the general election against your republican opponent," declared Governor Westmoreland Davis today in a telegram from Roanoke to Senator E. Lee Trinkle, democratic nominee for governor of Virginia. Following is the text of the governor's message to his successor.

Roanoke, Virginia, August 5.

Hon. E. Lee Trinkle,
Wytheville, Virginia.

"While I voted for Tucker I wish you to feel entirely free to visit the governor's office whenever you are inclined to do so in order that you may at once familiarize yourself with the state's affairs from the executive viewpoint. We will give any assistance you may desire. As a loyal democrat I shall be glad to stump the state for you in the general election against your republican opponent."

(Signed) WESTMORELAND DAVIS

Senator Trinkle when seen by reporters this morning was sitting on his front porch, friends and newspapers around him, reading telegrams of congratulations, and good wishes, which continue to swamp the little telegraphic office in this town.

Among the messages arriving this morning was one from Mrs. W. H. Bolling, the mother of Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson, wife of former President Woodrow Wilson. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Bolling were former residents of this town and neighbors of the Trinkle's. The telegram read;

"Big Stone Gap, Va.| August 5.—Accept our hearty congratulations and best wishes, W. H. BOLLING."

Another telegram was from an old college mate, who informed the nominee that he traveled 40 miles to vote and would have made it 1,400 had he been that far away."

Mr. Trinkle stated that he would remain here until September 15 to rest and attend to legal and business matters in his office. This is the result of the long and arduous campaign he made for the nomination.

He stated, however, that he had accepted an invitation to speak in Newport News on Labor Day, September 5. At the invitation of the local post of the American Legion, eh has also agreed to speak in Danville on Armistice Day, November 11.

Membership Drive.

Seminole Tribe Red Men To Continue Campaign

A large number of Red Men attended the meeting of Seminole Tribe last night in their wigwam over the Alexandria National Bank Building. The warriors degree was conferred on several hunters by the local tribe's degree team.

The young warriors of Seminole Tribe have been on the warpath scalping the young braves of this city and a large number of new members have been added to the roster of the tribe during the past few months.

At the meeting of the tribe last night, a campaign committee was appointed to continue the drive and by fall another larger number will be adopted in the order.

The Knights of the Tin-Panities a side degree of Seminole Tribe, have decided to hold a big night the middle of September, at which time the members of this branch of the order will come down from Washington and asist the local members in conferring the degree of knight upon a large number of tramp who are seeking the mysteries of the Tin-Panities.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

Washington, Aug. 5.—The Republican administration is likely to become embroiled in many ugly contests with foreign governments as the result of the agitation which has been started through the seizure of the schooner Henry L. Marshall off Atlantic City this week by the Coast Guard Service. Although the ship which operated under British registery was beyond the three-mile limit, she was boarded by United States officials and towed to New York because it is claimed she had on board a cargo of liquor which it was intended should be disposed of in this country.

Department of Justice officials declared today to the Gazette correspondent that from a cusory examination of the existing treaties and commercial agreements with Great Britain, there was nothing to justify the seizure of the Marshall and that protests from the British Embassy would no doubt result over the action of United States prohibition enforcement officers.

Col. William Hayward, U. S. attorney at New York has even gone so far as to declare that he proposes to seize and search vessels of all foreign nations suspected of having on board liquor no matter whether they are found beyond the three-mile limit or not. Col. Hayward has been summoned to Washington to give an explanation of his intentions and there is little doubt but that he will be given instructions to call off his campaign against "rum running" vessels of foreign registry and which carry on their sales outside the three-mile limit.

Knickerbockers For Women

Knickerbockers as the correct street attire for women evidently impressed blase Washington yesterday, for two girls paraded up and down the main streets at the busiest hours of the day, evoking not a single gasp of astonishment but only exclamations of delight in their appearance.

The two girls, who are members of a vaudeville team at a local theatre, even went so far as to go to the Capitol where they sought out Representative Alice Robertson, of Oklahoma, the only woman member of Congress. Miss Robertson stated emphatically that she approved the "knickers" for street wear, but desired it to be made plain that she had no immediate intention of adopting them for herself.

"I'll be content with skirts for the rest of my life," she said.

The Island of Yap

The United States government has receiver from Japan an offer of settlement of the dispute over the Island of Yap, it was learned in official circles today.

Secretary of State Hughes, who would neither confirm nor deny the report, is known to be giving it some attention although not nearly so much as he would like because of the multiplicity of other important questions before him. However, if an answer has not already been sent to the Jap offer, it will be in the immediate future, as State Department attaches now express great confidence in a Yap settlement prior to the meeting of President Harding's conference on limitation of armaments.

Just what is in the Jap offer is not known. Some time ago Japan offered to internationalize the cable terminals at Yap, but keeping the island itself under the original terms of the mandate awarded by the League of Nations. The United States had been contending for internationalization of the whole island and the supposition is that this particular Jap offer did not go far enough.

It is presumed in official circles that the most recent Jap offer contains even greater concessions than the original one and that there is a middle ground somewhere between the contentions of the United States and Japan which the two governments are trying to find to bring aboout an amicable arrangement over the island.

By making the recent offer of settlement, Japan has recognized the contention of this country that failure of the United States to ratify the Treaty of Versailles did not in any way affect the rights of this government as a participant in the victory over Germany to a voice in the disposition of the spoils of war.

RAILWAY STATEMENT

We desire to call attention to the advertisement of the Washington-Virginia Railway Company published in yesterday's paper. We do this in order that our readers may examine the figures given out by the Company. As we have heretofore stated, our only desire is to treat the Company fairly. Its published figures are having our attention and will be carefully analyzed later on. The Gazette wants better service and cheaper fares. This has been its one and insistent demand all along, and which it can never abate, in justice to its readers.

The Company is apparently heeding the contention heretofore made by the Gazette, namely, that it take the public into its confidence and lay the facts frankly before them. This it is apparently attempting to do in the present instance, and we commend it to that extent. We hope that it may yet see its way to accomplish the two objects for which the Gazette has persistently fought, and which we cannot too often iterate: the restoration of former fares and an improvement all along the line in its service to the people.

BRISBANE'S CREED

Some weeks ago we wrote an editorial on Brisbane's philosophy. Arthur Brisbane is the editorial writer for the Hearst newspapers, and probably has a larger reading clientele than any other writer in the world, now or since the days of Gutenberg. His Today Column in the Washington Times is apparently his personal mouthpiece, through which he utters daily his thoughts on religion, philosophy, literature, art, politics, economics, or whatever happens to strike his fancy of the moment. His editorial importance lies in the fact that he has the gift of expression.

He has mastered the art of simplicity in style. The man who runs may read and understand. Perhaps his are the only editorials in the country that are read alike by the laboring man, the business man, and the student. They are interesting, first of all. But that way danger lies. Brisbane has acquired such a habit of authoritative speech, such an excathedral manner, that those who allow others to do their thinking for them—and they constitute by far the majority of the millions who read and run—are cajoled, or bullied, or hypnotized into accepting his ipse dixit as gospel truth.

It were better, perhaps, if he thought more and wrote less. We can forgive his lucubrations on art, literature, politics and economics; but we cannot overlook his essays into deeper matters when they are reasioned from false premises or no premises at all. Because of his almost illimitable audience his writings are a powerful influence for good or evil. When for the latter, they should meet with some counter-active, some corrective antidote on the part of those who may likewise have a reading public.

With these thoughts, we call attention to Brisbane's creed as expressed in one of his more recent pronunciamentos. He is preaching on the lessons to be drawn from Caruso's death. He says:

> We learn from Caruso that the body, as well as the spirit, is important. Many men have had a thousand times Caruso's musical genius, ten thousand times his intelligence, infinitely more emotion and sentiment than he. But without Caruso's BODY there could not be the song that has delighted millions and will delight other millions for years to come.

What rot! Who would deny that the body is important as well as the spirit? Who would have to learn this truth, which is axiomatic even to a child! As to many men who have "a thousand times Caruso's musical genius, ten thousand times his intelligence, and infinitely more emotion and sentiment"—how absurd an exaggeration. The simple truth was that Caruso was blessed with an exceptional endowment of the organs that produce sound; he had the emotional temperament of an artist; and nothing else was needed to make him a great operatic singer. Without these two endowments Caruso would probably have made a first-class waiter in an Italian cafe—nothing more!

Again, he says:

> Three things count, SPIRIT, FORCE and MATTER. Spirit directs force and force acts on matter. The brain of Michael Angelo applied force to the hammer that cut out the marble, and that marble, MATTER, alone is left of Michael Angelo's genius.

This is, indeed, a whole system of philosophy in a nut-shell! What is spirit; what is this force that it directs; and what is matter? We rather think that the statue of Moses, one of Michael Angelo's greatest works, is instinct with spirit. Genius has left its impress on the marble and lifted it from its domain of the material into the transcendent realms of the ideal—the true abode of the soul. But according to Apostle Brisbane matter, alone, is left!

Now we come to Brisbane's idea of Heaven:

> Was there also, perhaps, intense interest and excitement in Heaven yesterday as the famous singer arrived? We cannot imagine dead, level uniformity anywhere, least of all in Heaven. Uniformity would make life horrible. There must be varying degrees of beauty in celestial as in earthly singing.
>
> Was there interest above in Caruso's arrival? And how will it seem to him after living as a star to find himself one in a chorus of many billions? These are questions that may be asked most reverently. The power that delighted a few on this earth for a short time must surely be used to delight endless hosts through all eternity.

Pleased with this sensuous imagery, our philosophaster goes on:

> If, as we are bound to believe, human beings meet, know themselves, and know each other in the future, what intense delight it will be for Verdi to hear his song about the woman as changeable as a feather in the wind sung by the greatest voice that ever sang it.
>
> All the musicians will gather around. Beethoven with head bent and hands behind his back; Wagner, the powerful creator; Bach, according to Beethoven, king of them all, will crowd to meet the new spirit.
>
> And when they ask him about the earth, how it is getting along, what of its degree of civilization, Caruso may answer, "Well, at any time, three or four thousand would pay from two to eight dollars for a seat to hear me sing. And a hundred thousand would pay from five to a hundred dollars to see two men fight."
>
> The spirits will say, "Caruso, you ought to be glad to get out of such a miserable planet. Please sing us something."

Think of Verdi, in Heaven, asking Caruso to sing his song about the woman as changeable as a feather! Think of Beethoven "with head bent and hands behind his back"; Wagner, the powerful creator; and Bach, "king of them all"—crowding to meet the new spirit with that magnificent earthly body, without which, says Brisbane, there could not be song.

As a corrective to this kind of palavering in which, we regret to say, our friend Brisbane is wont to indulge more frequently than is wholesome, we would recommend a course in solid reading. A more intimate acquaintance with even a few of the great minds of the world would indubitably result in a favorable change as to the viewpoints in Today's Column. In fact, there could be no other change!

A Big Game

Another big game of baseball is scheduled for Sunday at the Dreadnaught park, when Rex, independent champions of Washington, will meet the Dreadnaught A. C., titled the Northern Virginia amateur champions. The Rex journeyed to this city several weeks ago and defeated the big "D" by the score of 9 to 3, but they will meet a much different team Sunday than they did on their first appearance in this city They will meet a club far superior to any one that was ever organized in this city, and if you are in doubt come out to the park and look them over. You will see two of the best ball clubs that have ever hooked up in this city.

In obtaining the services of this club it requires a large guarantee and it is hoped that a large attendance will be on hand, and it is hoped that for one time that the "Railroad Track" rooters will find the main entrance to the ball park, and it will certainly be appreciated. So come on fans "open up" and we will give you first class ball games in Alexandria. The manager of the Dreadnaughts is dickering with the champions of Richmond for a series of games, and if we can furnish the proper guarantee we wil have one of the best teams in Virginia to appear in this city, and all we want is support from those who have been a little delinquent in coming across, and we will try to satisfy you. The team that has appeared on the field in the last few games will start against the Rex. with Alexander or Frye pitching and Stevens doing the receiving. Lem Owens, who needs no introduction, will toe the slab for Rex and you will be assured of a great ball game Sunday. The game starts promptly at 3 o'clock.

Lynchburg, Va.—A 9 pound son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Brandt, of Lawyers, who was born Wednesday about noon, probably has the distinction of being the first Virginia baby to be named for E. Lee Trinkle, following his nomination for Governor in Tuesday's promary. The son is to bear the name of E. Lee Trinkle Brandt.

Leopard Cannot Change Spots

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Tells the Treachery of Calomel.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynimite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel billious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

Many children innocently cheated out of the very food they need daily

Everyone knows that health is the most valuable asset of life. From birth to maturity is the "construction period."

A robust and healthy child will usually develop into a vigorous man or woman. But malnutrition will invariably hamper normal growth and when the child reaches maturity he or she is anemic, poorly nourished and liable to disease.

Many children today are innocently cheated out of the very foods they need. Some parents, either through lack of knowledge, or carelessness, do not provide those foods which strengthen and nourish the growing child.

It is the duty of parents to think for the child in these matters.

Grape-Nuts, the well-known food made of whole wheat flour and malted barley, served with milk or cream, is one of the most nutritious foods in the world. It provides the elements necessary to nutrition and is a balanced food.

Quite aside from its superior nutritive value, is its delicious appetite appeal. Especially attractive with fresh fruits or preserves.

Grape-Nuts is served and sold everywhere—in leading hotels and restaurants; at lunch counters; in every good grocery store in every city, town or village in the United States. Where you can't find Grape-Nuts—you won't find people.

NEWS IN THE GAZETTE 108 Years Ago

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE
Commercial and Political

THURSDAY, AUG. 5, 1813.

FOREIGN NEWS.

It is reported that Murat, King of Naples, has attempted arrangements to render himself and kingdom independent of Bonaparte. It appears that the British General at Sicily and Murat have opened an intercourse, and some trade is established between the places they respectively control.

Bonaparte has appointed Massena governor of Toulon, and general of the 8th military division.

It is now said that the Pontiff having refused his ratification to the arrangement which Bonaparte wished to force upon him, is still kept in close confinement at Fontainbleau.

Accounts from Gibraltar state that the Algerines had massacred all the Moorish families at Oran.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

The American schooner "Stanley" from Charleston for Havana, with a cargo of rice, was captured on His Majesty's birthday by five British privateers.

The increasing demand for beef and pork furnish ample encouragement for breeding black cattle and swine.

The latter harvest of Maize, or Indian Corn, Potatoes and Roots afford the most cheering promise to reward the labors of the husbandman. Nothing is wanting to crown the year with ineffable goodness but PEACE!

INTERESTING INTERVIEW WITH HEAD OF UNITED PRESS ASSN.

The time is at hand when the American press must assume an international character. This is the conviction of W. W. Hawkins, president of the United Press Association, who has just returned to this country after a tour of Europe.

In England, France, and Germany he talked with the man in the street, high government officials and newspaper editors and proprietors and his conslusions are based upon certain knowledge that American news interest will follow our dollars; and everywhere he found the belief on the part of Europeans that the United States must bind herself to the old world economically if international trade and the prosperity of nations is to be re-established.

Mr. Hawkins made a careful study of the newspaper situation in each country he visited and it is interesting to note that American newspapers are not alone in the scramble for crimson news. Even in the staid old newspapers of England, he says, scandal stories, such as divorces, and sports dominate. In England, he says conditions have grown so bad in this respect that some of the leading editors are preparing to take up a campaign against such news.

"What is America thinking, what are her leaders going to do?" are the first questions asked by Europeans in all walks of life, declared Mr. Hawkins. It is easy to understand why they should after one has met and talked with the newspaper men of both the countries on whose side we fought and those that were against us in the war.

While the cry of the entire world is new for peace and for any movement that will lead to that desirable end, Mr. Hawkins says he was amazed to find newspaper men everywhere seriously discussing "the next war." When discussions turn to peace, however, America is the keynote.

"America is playing a far greater part in the news of the world than ever before," continued Mr. Hawkins in answer to the question whether or not America often had a place in such discussions.

"Everywhere in Europe there is an intense interest in the actions and Congress at Washington. European statesmen and newspaper men are eager for information about the personality of the members of the new American cabinet.

"In fact, everywhere I went I went I found the officials and the people looking toward America for help in straightening out the present world situation. In most cases they were frank to say that they looked to America because they are convinced it is the best place to look. That has forced them to a keen interest in American news and views, which they get through the newspapers.

"Most of the publishers to whom I talked believe the increasing interest in American affairs is not a temporary phase in the world news balance, but marks the beginning of a new era in which the United States will take a prominent part in the world news situation.

Clarksburg Man Gains 15 Pounds.

"I'm Bragging On Tanlac To All My Friends," Declares W. B. Darling.

"I have gained fifteen pounds since taking Tanlac and have overcome troubles that have been pulling me down for seven years," said W. B. Darling, manager of the Fuel City Pressing Co., at 122 Second St., residing at 329 Orchard St., Clarksburg, W. Va.

"I had one of the worst cases of stomach trouble you ever heard of," he continued. "I never felt hungry and the little I ate made me feel miserable afterwards. Gas formed on my stomach and caused me to bloat terribly and the pains in my stomach and around my heart were awful. I had smothering spells and could hardly get my breath, and often while walking on the street I would be overcome with dizziness. I felt nervous and restless all through the night and hardly ever got any sound sleep. When morning came I felt tired and worn out. Nearly every muscle in my body felt sore and I just had to drag myself out of bed and I was so rundown and weak I could hardly attend to my business.

"After taking six bottles of Tanlac I am like a brand-new man. I have a fine appetite and I don't suffer in the least with gas, dizziness, bloating or palpitations. In fact I haven't a pain about me, my nerves are as steady as a clock and I can sleep like a log all night. I hop out of bed in the morning feeling just fine a nd ready for a big day's work, I am stronger and better in every way and I have gained fifteen pounds. I have never found anything in a class with Tanlac and I'm bragging on it to all my friends."

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield, Jr., and all leading druggists.

BATTLE STAMPEDE AS REAL IN MAKING AS ON THE SCREEN

John Bowers Beat Off Three Thousand Rushing Steers Before Going Down Beneath Charge

What is the biggest thrill engendered by an action rush on the screen? Was it the surging hordes of revolutionaries in "Passion," the rescue-race of native canoes in "The Idol Dancer," or the thunder-gallop of the supply train in vain attempt to save General Custer in "Bob Hampton of Placer"? Or is it the mad stampede of 4000 steers, charging headdown on a defenceless girl and a battling man in "The Sky Pilot"? Each has its own adherents, but there is one man at least who would welcome all the other thrills as something easy compared to the spinal shivers he experienced while facing that cattle stampede in the Cathirne Curtis Production of Ralph Connor's famous story of the Canadian ranches. This is John Bowers, popular movie star, who is particularly and peculiarly fitted to know whereof he speaks, in view of the fact that in the role of the "Sky Pilot" it is he who was chosen by Director King Vidor to stand over the body of an injured little ranch girl and face the onrush of terror-stricken cattle.

Fists clinched, teeth gritted, Bowers stood his ground in that event ful moment when a thousand head of cattle stampeded towards him. Four times his clothes were ripped by steer horns before he even paid heed to his bruises. The fifth instance took the matter out of his hands, however. A wild steer bowled him over, with a resultant wound that required six stitenes.

But the real thrill had not yet arrived. When Bowers was knocked down, King Vidor, who had "planted" his cameras in a trough eighteen feet deep dug just in back of the point of focus, climbed out of the pit and took upon himself the work of frightening the animals to either side of Colleen Moore, who, face to the ground, had not realized that Bowers was no longer over her and defending her from the mad onrush.

It is estimated that by the time Bowers was felled, almost 3000 head of cattle had passed by him. It was, therefore, only up to the director to fend the other thousand over the danger zone. But that was some job in itself. As the herd rushed onward speed increased and the animals came thundering on toward the figure of the waving director and the motionless figure of the girl, backed up by a battery of maceras, only the tops of which were sticking above the ground. It was really less than two minutes but, it seemed hours to King Vidor who stood doggedly to the task of waving the animals aside.

Thus it happens that the scenes of the cattle stampede in "The Sky Pilot" are said to rival any "thrill scenes" ever shown on the screen. There was no faking, no doubling, no tricks, Bowers stood to his task until he was knocked to the ground; and the several hundred feet of this cattle stampede, practically all of which is close-up photography, will make a striking impression when seen on the screen.

"I didn't realize at the time how thrilling the scene was," said Bowers, after he had witnessed the first screen of "The Sky Pilot." "But after I saw it on the screen, then the whole thing came back to me. I almost believe I know every animal in the picture by sight—and I know darn well I can pick out the five that got too well acquainted with me."

The dramatic stampede scenes in "The Sky Pilot" form a climax for a gripping story of the Canadian plains adapted from Radph Connor's book The picture is released by the Associated First National Pictures, Inc., and will be shown at the Idle Hour Theatre Saturday.

INGROW TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, ROBERT J. SOULES, who departed this life two years ago today, August 5th, 1919.

The month of August again is here,
To us the saddest of the year,
Because two years ago today,
Our dear husband and father passed away.
We never can forget you, dear father
While on this earth we stay,
And our hearts have never been the same,
Since you have passed away.
Day by day we saw him fade,
And slowly pass away,
But in our hearts we often prayed,
That he might longer stay.
Through all his pain he often smiled,
A smile of heavenly birth,
And when the angles called him home,
He smiled farewell to earth.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The Washington-Virginia Railway Company desires to submit the following facts regarding its operations, to show the citizens of the various communities which it serves that it should be considered as a LOCAL enterprise and an ASSET, and should receive the CONSIDERATION and PATRONAGE due any LOCAL concern which is helping to SUPPORT and DEVELOP the various districts in which it does business.

The following figures are taken from the Company's books for the year ending December 31, 1920, and are indicative of other years.

There has been paid for—

TAXES:

State of Virginia	$12.831.09
Arlington County	13,620.50
Fairfax County	3,894.45
Alexandria City	4,075.71
Town of Potomac	257.77
Town of Vienna	215.82
Town of Falls Church	270.53
Town of Fairfax	80.11
Total	$35,245.96

MERCHANDISE, ETC.:

Alexandria City	$12,559.08
Fairfax County	11,433.52
Arlington County	1,113.89
Total	$25,106.49

WAGES:

Alexandria City	$158,887.80
Fairfax County	97,937.31
Arlington County	145,826.30
Total	$402,651.41

A further analysis shows that, exclusive of taxes, this Company has paid in:

The City of Alexandria and Contributory Territory	$182,889.22
Clarendon, Lacey and Ballston	139,743.27
Falls Church	86,007.92
Vienna and Oakton	44,691.01
Fairfax, Town	24,426.48
Total	$427,757.90

In addition to this, the Company is obliged to maintain certain portions of pavements in the various communities which amounts to SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS annually. It also contributes to the various local public and private charities, both with money and free transportation.

A tax of one-half cent per passenger is paid to the Federal Government for all persons carried by it across the Highway Bridge at Washington, which amounted in 1920 to $24,913.45. In addition it paid for maintenance of pavement on this bridge, $3,915.15. All of these bridge taxes are paid by the Company for the privilege of operating its cars over this bridge, SO THAT IT CAN DELIVER ITS PASSENGERS TO THE CENTER OF WASHINGTON.

In order to continue to give the good service which it is now rendering, and expend the amounts given above, in the various districts, this Company MUST receive the CO-OPERATION and PATRONAGE of the communities.

If this patronage is withdrawn and directed to other means of transportation, which DOES NOT and CANNOT GIVE the service, and which DOES NOT contribute the large amounts in TAXES, PATRONAGE OF MERCHANTS, OR WAGES, it will be NECESSARY for this Company to WITHDRAW A LARGE PORTION OF ITS SERVICE, which would mean REDUCTION in the number of employees, and wages; also patronage to merchants. This will react upon all the communities in a MARKED degree.

The Washington-Virginia Railway Company asks YOU to SERIOUSLY CONSIDER these factors before CONDEMNING it, and to REALIZE, NOTWITHSTANDING STATEMENTS OF CERTAIN PEOPLE, that it is a very VALUABLE ASSET to the various towns AND SHOULD BE SO CONSIDERED AND TREATED BY THEIR CITIZENS.
